Beech Berry Testifies That He Saw William J. McBride Fire the Fatal Shot.

Declares That Dewey and His Cowboys Fired Upon Them Without Warning and Without Provocation.

Norton, Kas., Feb. 13.-In the trial to day of Chauncey Dewey, the millionaire ranchman, and his cowboys, William J. McBride and Clyde Wilson, charged with the murder of Burchard Berry, damaging testimony, particularly against McBride. was brought out by the State. Beech Berry testified that on the day of the killing at the Berry farm he saw McBride from behind the water tank rise up and shoot Burchard Berry. He also stated that it was Dewey who had shot Roy Berry in Beech Berry told of going with Roy and Burchard on the fatal day to the home of Alpheus Berry, another relative, where the shooting took place.

"My father and Alpheus," said he, "were ear the water tank when we arrived, talking to three men. We rode into the yard and tied our horses, then started toward my father and Alpheus. We had taken only a few steps when Chauncey ward my father and Alpheus. We had taken only a few steps when Chsuncey Dewey rose from behind a sod wall and shot Roy, who was in the lead. I was next and Burchard followed.

"As we started toward the yard, Mc-Bride jumped behind the bank and shot Burchard Berry, while Wilson shot at me from behind the wall, and missed. The three shots were not over a second apart. I ran behind the barn with all three shoting at me. After I got behind the barn they kept shooting at the barn. I then ran to the house. One shot struck me in the leg."

"Did any of you draw a revolver?"

"No. After I got to the barn I drew my revolver, and as I ran towards the house I fired. I did not fire at any one in particular, but just in the direction of the three."

"Roy started to crawl toward the house. They fired a couple of shots at him. Both went through the rim of his hat. He dropped as if dead. They then quit shooting at him and rode away."

Berry declared that Dewey and his men had commenced firing on them without warning and without a word having been spoken between them.

Upon cross-examination, Berry admitted that there had been iil feeling between the Berrys and the Deweys dating back to 1901, and that all of the Berrys owned rifles and revolvers.

Court adjourned till Monday, with Beech Berry still on the stand, being cross-examined.

HEAD-DRESS PARTY NOVEL FEATURE OF SOCIAL EVENT.

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC London, Feb. 13 .- (Copyright, 1904.)-Altogether the feature of the week was the amusing and picturesque head-dress party given by Mr. and Lady Feederovna Sturb at No. 18 Portman Square, where all the guests had to wear fancy headgear, an exception being made only in the case of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

Undoubtedly the most becoming and most effective costume was that worn by the hostess herself. With a beautifully made white muslin dress and a blue sash she wore a high hat of white muslin and lace, trimmed with an edging of lace around the brim. Her hair was beautifully coiffured and powdered with gray.

Mrs. George Cornwallis-West caused great amusement when she arrived. She had donned a blond wig like that worn by Marguerite, with long pinits, which completely changed her appearance. Her hlusband was completely disguiser under a coal black wig and mustache.

Mrs. George Keppel's head dress was very novel. It was a wig of the Louis XVI period, made in the palest blue-green with one long curl falling down the neck. In this novel wig was fastened a large blue and silver bat, with electric eyes. Her dress was of white satin, trimmed with white lilles, cherries and lace.

Mrs. John Mendles looked pretty in an enormous white mob cap, trimmed with a great bow of cherry-colored ribbons.

Mme. Von Andre looked handsome, but one missed her beautiful hair under a fair wig of the period when hair was dressed high, with great combs at the back.

Mrs. Newhouse's head dress was also of this period, and very pretty she looked. ost effective costume was that worn by

ACCIDENT FATAL

William Tucker Loses Life, and Eight Mules Are Suffocated.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL South McAlester, I. T., Feb. 13. - A "windy shot" in Sample's coal mine No. 1 here last night caused an explosion and set here last night caused an explosion and set fire to the interior of the mine, despite the efforts of a hundred fire fighters. The blaze is yet uncontrollable.

William Tucker, a shot firer, was the only man in the mine. It is believed that he was killed, but his body has not been reached. A stable down in the mine caught fire and eight head of mules were suffocated.

The explosion which followed the "windy shot" was terrific, and fiames shot out the mouth of the mine nundreds of feet above the spot where the miner Tucker was working. The damage to the mining plant will be less than $800.
